CyberSecurity - "Progress & Best Practices"

This Program discussed:

- Progress Report on CyberSecurity in the Federal Government

Thought Leadership
In Cybersecurity and Homeland Security

by Tom Trezza, Jr.
President, Trezza Media Group

Every year, Jim Flyzik & I host our 1st Federal Executive Forum on CyberSecurity in late January & AFCEA hosts its annual Homeland Security Conference in February (22nd-23rd-24th). Our FEF Program included Mr. Greg Schaffer, Assistant Secretary for CyberSecurity/DHS & RADM David Glenn J6 CYBERCOM, which gave a great view of what is being done, what is needed, and what are the challenges across the DHS & Defense Communities.

Outlined are some key discussion points so that Industry can continue to build strong partnerships with your DHS & DoD customers around the critical issue of CyberSecurity:

CyberSecurity Priorities

Below are some of the top priorities for DHS & DoD Government Cyber Leaders as they look to Create a Frontline of Defense across the Federal Government:

Top Priorities:

- Continuing to Deploy the Einstein Solution for better Intrusion Detection & Prevention (DHS)
- Coordination of the National Cyber Incident Response Plan (DHS)
- Increasing the Security capabilities of industrial controls & systems attached to the internet (DHS)
- Successfully Defend DoD Networks (U.S. Cyber Command)
- Grow Cyber Workforce (U.S. Cyber Command)
- Continue to Partner with Other Gov. Agencies (U.S. Cyber Command)
- Protect Civil Liberties & Privacy

This is our 6th year of working with top Government IT Leaders and its rewarding to see how closely The Department of Homeland Security & The Dept. of Defense are working to improve CyberSecurity for the Nation.

It's also exciting to see this partnership

- Top CyberSecurity Priorities
- Key Challenges to still overcome in IT Security
- Lessons Learned
- A Vision for The Future-how can we be proactive and prevent attacks

Panelists:

- Greg Schaffer - Assistant Secretary for CyberSecurity & Communications, DHS
- RADM David Glenn - J6, USCYBERCOM
- William (Curt) Barker - Associate Director and Chief Cybersecurity Advisor, NIST Information Technology Laboratory
- Lee Holcomb - Vice President, Strategic Initiatives Cyber Operations, Lockheed Martin Information Systems & Global Solutions
- Ed White - Senior Director of Civilian Business Development, McAfee
- Tim Brown - SVP, Chief Architect & Distinguished Engineer in CA Security Management

Government Cloud Computing- "Progress & Best Practices"

This Program Discussed:

- Progress Report on Cloud Computing in Federal Government
- Progress & Best Practices including the DISA RACE Program
- Challenges still ahead including Security
- Lessons Learned
- A Vision for The Future for Cloud Computing

Panelists:

- Mike Krieger- US Army-Chief Information Officer/G-6
- Jack Wilmer- Technical Director, Global Information Grid Enterprise

grow-especially with the fact that The Dept. of Defense will be participating for the 1st time at the upcoming 2011-AFCEA Homeland Security Conference-"Working Together Today for a More Secure Tomorrow".

The Conference kicks off on Tuesday afternoon-Feb. 22nd with a Keynote Address from General Keith B. Alexander, Commander U.S. Cyber Command Director. How better to show true partnership than to have for the very first time-DoD opening the Homeland Security Conference!!

Homeland Security Highlights

The AFCEA Homeland Security Conference (February 22nd-23rd & 24th) has always been the Premier Event in Washington DC. Becky Nolan-Jim Flyzik & their Advisory Board have developed another amazing 3 day event that will cover all of the major Homeland Security Issues-including an opening ½ day CBP Industry Day.

To learn & network with DHS & DoD Leaders-I would strongly recommend spending these 2-3 days-listening, learning & understanding the needs & priorities of DHS for 2011 and beyond.

Lastly, DHS Secretary Napolitano has crafted her strategic imperative of "One-DHS" so we will producing a DHS CIO Roundtable Federal Executive Forum & an On The Frontlines Digital & Print Publication to provide insight in how organizations can work with DHS to make this vision a reality.

Thanks
